Hi Maribel.

Sorry for my delay in getting back to you. I'm out on maternity leave until September. My baby boy (Jacob) was born in late in January so he and I are enjoying our summer together. To get ready, so I'm not so overwhelmed with emails when I return, I've started catching up on things. I forwarded your request along to Tierra and they will put together the posters for delivery to you. I'm not quite sure how that fell through the cracks as I thought I had taken care of it, but at least now it will finally get done. Since I'm out, I've arranged for Tierra to contact you directly when the posters are ready for delivery, so you should hear back some time in the next couple of weeks from either Brian or Paul of Tierra to make arrangements to bring you the posters.

Anything further I can do to help please let me know.

Thanks,

Elizabeth

Hello Elizabeth,

I don't remember if I answered this e-mail; I emptied a lot of folders. I know it has been awhile but I hope you are still sending the Passaic River posters. It will be wonderful to get them laminated for education programming on the Passaic River clean-up but also rolled in a tube so that they can be stored in our archives. In addition, any images or artifacts are also welcome.

Everything would be so helpful for patrons' research and students learning the history of the Passaic River.

Please include any information that can help someone learn where and who send them, such as, the people involved in the clean-up. This way, credit will be given to those who deserve it. I think process how everything came about makes a great history/story for an exhibition in the future along the history of the Industrial Revolution.

Thanks so much,

Maribel

Hi Maribel.

Per your request at the Passaic River dredging press event at the site, I asked Tierra Solutions whether they'd be willing to make an extra set of the posters we used that day for you for your exhibit. They agreed, but had one question in return. Do you want them laminated on poster board or rolled up in a tube? Your choice. Please let me know and I'll have them go ahead with production.

Thanks and have a nice day,
Elizabeth
